Pucksters Take Baseball Championship

Manager Gentile Crowns the Season With Success in Defeating Wrentham in Finals Double-Header

The World's Series on a small scale waged between Pucksters and Wrentham Artics during the past two Sundays resulted in a smashing victory on Sunday by Coleman winning 9 to 1 and 4 to 2. The Lethbridge Herald's report of the game follows:

Coleman Pucksters, by virtue of the ability of their two ace chockers, Marconi and Seaman, to silence the big bats of the Wrentham intermediates, are new Alberta intermediate baseball champions. They won both ends of a doubleheader in Blaimore Sunday afternoon by 9-1 and 4-2 scores. Last week at Wrentham the teams split a double-header.

Around 700 fans witnessed the first game and saw Eddie Seaman, of the Pucksters, pitch shut-out ball. He allowed only 32 batters to face him and took 20 of these by the strike-out route, gave four scattered hits, and was unfortunate in not getting a shut-out.

First game:
Wrentham..... 000 000 010—1 4 6
Coleman..... 040 002 00x—9 11 3
Whitney and Duncan; Seaman and Ellick.

In the twilight game, Marconi, of the Pucksters, and Bobinic, of Wrentham, hooked up in another pitchers' duel and Marconi got revenge for being bested by Bobinic at Wrentham a week ago by a 3 to 2 score. Marconi limited the prairie boys to three singles, allowing two in the fifth and one in the sixth. Marconi struck out 10 men and Bobinic whiffed six. Although Bobinic allowed nine hits the Pucksters bunched four of them in the second to score twice. Gabe, Coleman veteran, led the second inning attack with a double, and then rapped out another double and scored on Bernack's single. Brown accounted for Coleman's other run in the eighth when he stretched a three-bagger into a homer.

Second game:
Wrentham..... 000 020 000—2 3 3
Coleman..... 021 000 01x—4 9 7
Bobinic and Duncan; Marconi and Ellick.

Enjoyed Visit to N.Y. World's Fair

Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D.C., and Atlantic City Included in Holiday Trip.

After nearly a month spent in visiting New York, Atlantic City and Washington, D.C., Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Lillie returned last week. They went by train from Shelby, Mont., motoring across to that place, and enjoyed the trips east and return.

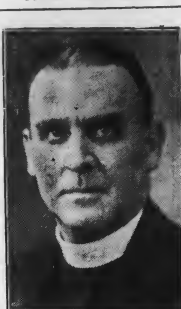

The Fair, with its myriad of interesting sights, was visited several days during their stay in New York, and trips were made by steamboat to various points around New York and Manhattan Island.

During their stay in Washington, they visited the Smithsonian Institute, where there is a vast collection of scientific and other exhibits. In fact, it is stated that if one spent eight hours a day, and viewed each exhibit for one minute only, it would take 63 years to do the job. Among the more spectacular exhibits is the plane in which Lindbergh made his memorable trans-Atlantic flight from New York to Paris in 1927.

Dr. Lillie, whose hobby is photography, took several hundred feet of movie film, depicting highlights of the places visited, which will prove a very interesting addition to his already extensive record of photographic views.

Hague, St. Alban's, Coleman, and St. Luke's, Blaimore.

Strong Protest No Recruiting Centre In Coleman

Largest Centre in Past Enlisted to Facilities for Examination and Attestation of Volunteers; M. D. 13 Asked to Act.

Protest has been made to headquarters of Military District 13 that no arrangements have been made to establish a recruiting centre here, despite the fact that so far Coleman has sent the majority of the men enlisted in the Pass towns. This is the largest centre in the Pass and the protest states "those who seek to enlist are required to proceed to Blaimore to offer their services and undergo medical examination." Instead of difficulties being placed in the way of young men desiring to enlist, facilities should be provided in Coleman, and it is asked that provision be made by the authorities.

Considerable dissatisfaction is felt among local citizenry on the matter, and protests have been sent by the Board of Trade, and by individuals, who rightfully state that to the town from which they enlist should be given the credit, and facilities provided. Further action will be urged on the authorities in this regard.

Appeal for Service By Legion President

Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion has received a copy of the radio address by the Dominion president, Brigadier Foster, of Sept. 13, in which he states:

"The choice rests freely with each individual as to what course he feels called upon to follow. We are now for the most part forty-five years or over. We have therefore reached an age at which we must know in what sphere we can most usefully be employed, depending on physical capacity, training and experience. There will be need for the effort which each and every one can make, and as the atmosphere clarifies, all will find a place. It is indeed the sole consolation of the situation that in a comparatively short time there should be left in Canada no unemployed ex-service men. Active steps to ensure that end are being taken in co-operation with Government."

"We ex-service men and women stand in 1939 on the same ground we took a quarter of a century ago, but we enter this conflict with that grim knowledge which alone can spring from past experience. We stand for the united Canada, and to that unity we pledge all the efforts of our organizations in every section of the Dominion, and embracing every class, race and creed.

"His Majesty's Government may know that wherever the assistance of the ex-service community is required, it stands ready to serve as an integral part of the forces of the Crown."

"GOD SAVE THE KING."

Recruits Given Rousing Send-off On Saturday

Town Band and Hundreds of People Join in Demonstration as Coleman's Second Draft of Recruits Leave.

The second contingent of recruits from Coleman to enlist for the regiments now being mobilized in Alberta were given a rousing send-off on Saturday afternoon, a reminder of the days of 25 years ago when a now older generation of men started out on the same long, long trail. The older fellows saw similar scenes re-enacted as when they left; farewells, tear-stained faces of women and children, single file in hilarious mood, and the crowd cheering while the band played old-time martial airs.

So dense was the crowd on the depot platform that the train was signalled to slowly approach to avoid accident to people. It was held for a few minutes to permit good-byes to be said, and as it slowly steamed away amid thunderous cheering, the recruits waved their cheery farewells as they left for training quarters at Calgary.

Those leaving were Dan Foster, Ross Foster, Roy Foster (three brothers), Sid Thomas, J. Raymond, J. Hirst, J. Kroesing, George Kroesing (brothers), F. Coccioline, for Calgary Highlanders; H. Cox, for 91st Battalion, and C. Harmer and E. Kennedy, for 13th Field Co. Royal Canadian Engineers.

Others reported to have volunteered for service are W. Lonsbury, Bert Murray, for Calgary Highlanders; Percy Snow and Lorenzo Richards, Royal Canadian Engineers.

Independent Association Will Carry On

The Independent Association of the Crow's Nest-Pincher Creek provincial constituency met at Lundbreck on Saturday evening, under the chairmanship of Capt. Ed. Donkin, vice of Frank, and E. C. Costick, secretary-treasurer. To fill the vacancy of the vice-presidency caused by the death of Mr. John Kerr, S. G. Banan, of Blaimore, was appointed.

Representatives were present from the Pass towns, and from points in the former Pincher Creek constituency. Though the war has lessened political activity, it was decided to maintain the work of the association. A delegation was also appointed with power to confer with other political groups, a letter having been received from the executive of the Liberal association expressing their willingness to co-operate.

The Churches

THE UNITED CHURCH

Services are now back on their regular schedule. All organizations are meeting as usual after the summer recess. There are yet children who have not returned to the Sunday school, though all the classes are in operation.

With the choir at the Sunday services, it should increase the evening attendance. Practices will be on Wednesday evenings.

Members and adherents should watch for announcements of plans for war services. The resources of the church are at the disposal of the government. A steady flow of comforts and money will be required and we should back our own church enterprises first.—H. J. Bevan, minister.

Former Hospital Secretary to Face Supreme Court

Preliminary Trial Before Magistrate Gresham Occupies Two Days—Evidence Reveals Discrepancies For Several Years

The trial of J. T. Griffiths, former secretary of Coleman Miners' Union Hospital, on a charge of taking from the funds $2,000 and not accounting for same, was opened in the council chamber on Tuesday morning. Magistrate J. W. Gresham presiding.

From the middle of 1933 to 1938, Mr. Griffiths was secretary of the hospital board, and last August he moved to Vancouver.

Following his resignation, George Ford was appointed secretary. After taking over the duties, he called for an independent audit, and this was undertaken by E. D. Batrum, municipal auditor, of Calgary.

Shortages considerably in excess of the amount named on the charge sheet, it is alleged, were discovered.

When first discovering the discrepancies, correspondence between the present secretary and Griffiths was passed, and the latter's return to Coleman was asked, so that he could appear before the board. Instead, Griffiths offered to make restitution, and did return two amounts of $25 each and one of $50, promising to pay monthly amounts.

In the course of correspondence, Griffiths gave as a reason why he had not kept up regular payments was the sickness of his wife, and cost of medical services.

The board decided during the summer, on legal advice, to lay a charge against Griffiths, and he was apprehended in Vancouver and brought back to Coleman, when after a brief appearance before the court, he was remanded on $4,000 bail.

Witnesses heard on Tuesday morning were George Ford, who gave evidence of correspondence, of which copies were submitted; Mrs. E. V. Wood, hospital matron, whose evidence was on cash entries, which she had made and which had been acknowledged by the signature of Griffiths; J. Emmerson, Sam Sagoff, G. Pattinson.

In some cases it was shown that cheques had been made out by Griffiths, payable to himself, and purporting to have been paid for goods supplied to the hospital.

In some instances cheques were cashed, bearing forged signatures. Dues received for the hospital were kept by Griffiths, and the audit revealed that the misappropriations had increased steadily from the time Griffiths was appointed in July, 1933. Dummy cheques had deceived the local auditors, members of the miners' union, and as Griffiths was appointed four years in succession after his first year, he covered up the shortages by manipulation of entries and the making out of dummy cheques. In one case a cheque for $35 made, purporting to have been made out by a man for dues, bore a forged signature, while on other cheques the president's signature had been forged.

The Wednesday morning session of the court heard the evidence of E. D. Batrum, Calgary auditor, whose investigation covered part of the period during which the shortages were found.

Magistrate Gresham committed the accused to the supreme court, to be held later in the year, bail remaining at $4,000.

"Mein Kampf" Then and Now!

This is what Hitler said in his book, written several years ago, when an alliance with Russia was not thought of.

"We must never forget that the regents of present-day Russia are common blood-stained criminals; that here is the scum of humanity, which, favored by conditions in a tragic hour, overran a great State, butchered and rooted out millions of its leading intellects with savage bloodthirstiness, and for almost ten years has exercised the most frightful regime of tyranny of all time. Nor must we forget that these rulers belong to a nation which combines a rare mixture of bestial horror with an unconquerable gift of lying, and today more than ever before believes itself called upon to impose its bloody oppression on the whole world."

ANSWERS

According to Field Marshal Goering's speech to German munitions workers, it's all over but the hell! The German army and "my air force" have put out the Polish fire; the last "cleansing" of Poland will be finished within four weeks; then seventy divisions will go to the West to deal with the French "if they insist on bleeding for Britain."

There is no longer danger of war on two fronts says the field marshal, and no danger of blockade. The Russians have raw materials. The Rumanians and the Yugoslavs do not intend to get mixed for Britain's sake. That is Herr Goering's picture of the war.

Apparently he considered it unanswerable. But replies are made. In London there is a quiet announcement that Britain is preparing for three years of war in Warsaw women and children dig trenches to defend their homeland. In Ottawa the Canadian

Red Cross Society Met Wednesday

Many Have Expressed Willingness to Help—Membership is Open to All at One Dollar Fee.

The executive committee of the Red Cross Society at last night's meeting decided to complete plans for the annual campaign as soon as supplies and instructions are received from provincial headquarters.

Mrs. Arthur E. Graham secretary, reported having received replies from the Rebeka Lodge, appointing Mrs. T. Holstead and Mrs. R. Dunlop as representatives on the general committee and the Polish Society had appointed Mrs. Janostak and Mrs. Kolber, the two latter being at the meeting. Mrs. Dunlop, past secretary, was added to the executive.

Mrs. A. W. H. McLeod sent a letter expressing her appreciation at having been appointed honorary president, and stated that though she could not engage in active work, she would do all in her power to promote the work.

The secretary pointed out that any gatherings held to raise funds, if held under the auspices of the Red Cross, must turn over the proceeds to the Society, this being a strict rule of headquarters.

The meeting authorized the treasurer, Mr. Wilfred Dutil, to accept membership fees of one dollar from those wishing to join, and membership cards will be issued as soon as received by the secretary.

A further meeting will probably be held on Friday evening, when further plans will be discussed and arrangements made for distributing supplies, provided instructions are received from provincial headquarters by that time, otherwise the secretary will notify members.

RED CROSS NOTES

The Polish Society of Coleman has appointed Mrs. A. Kolber and Mrs. Joe Janostak as representatives on the general committee of the local Red Cross Society. The Polish Society has already sent by its own collections $139.35 to the Polish National Defence Committee, Winnipeg.

parliament, rejecting the possible advantages and the hypocrisy of undeclared war, officially enters the struggle. And on the Western Front the French say nothing but push on toward the Westwall.

There are things in the picture which must be seriously considered by those who seek to answer—in the only terms National Socialist leaders understand. There are differences from the situation of 1914. Russia is not an ally. Italy is uncertain, and Rumania and Yugoslavia are trying to be neutral. Blockade may be more difficult. But it is far too early to doubt—unless one has to boast to keep up a morale so delicate that news from other countries cannot be endured.

For there were things Herr Goering did not mention. There is the conviction in Britain and France—and to a lesser degree in many other countries—that no one will be safe until the menace of unprovoked aggression is ended. There is a concept of liberty and of a just world order that knows no race. There are resolute peoples like the Czechs and Austrians, to say nothing of dissident Germans. There is a German economy which must begin a war with bread cards. There are countries like Rumania and Yugoslavia whose choice is to accept the fate of the Czechs or fight.

The unanswerable picture has another side—there are answers.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

AS THIS is written, the United States is still refusing to sell airplanes or other war equipment to belligerent nations, thereby handicapping particularly Great Britain and France. United States newspapers are loud in protesting that their country must be kept out of Europe's wars, yet secretly and openly they hope the allies will win. Their good wishes might be likened to resolutions of sympathy, which are a mighty poor substitute when real action is needed.

IT REMINDS us of a citizen of one of the European nations subdued by Hitler, living in this district. He was upbraiding the British for not moving faster to save Poland from invasion. At the time many of our Canadian boys were enlisting for service, but not this gent. Needless to state he left himself open for some very pointed rejoinders.

THE United States has many pro-German sympathisers and underground organizations which make President Roosevelt's task difficult. Without question his sentiments are with France and Great Britain, as he realizes the demoralizing effect of Hitlerism and its war against God and Christianity. But he has not the united support necessary to throw the weight of his country on the side of the democratic nations fighting for liberty. It arouses cynicism in one to think that the United States so loudly sings of itself as being "The Land of The Brave and The Free," when it is in a measure hamstrung by pro-German sympathisers, for it is the truth.

GREAT BRITAIN took up the cause of oppressed nations when it might have left them to shift for themselves, and looked after its own defences. It did not have to go to war to prevent Poland's invasion, but it decided it would remove the threat of Hitlerism from Europe, as it did over a century ago when Napoleon was the bad man of Europe, continually stirring up war. There are all too many who while enjoying the liberties for which Great Britain has fought and will continue to fight, are useless in helping to promote the ideals which gave them liberty and life under democratic government. Time for plain speaking, it certainly is, when France, Great Britain and its Dominions are putting forth every effort and enduring sacrifice to champion the cause of oppressed European nations.

THE United States fought a civil war for nearly three years because it did not believe that the country could remain half slave and half free. Yet to-day we have the spectacle of attempts being made to compel the world to become slaves to Hitlerism, while certain politicians and pro-German sympathisers of the United States say it is none of their business, let Europe settle its own quarrels. Fortunately there is a large section of public opinion which takes the opposite view, and whose influence will be brought to bear as the war lengthens.

GREAT BRITAIN, the smallest country in Europe, with possibly the exceptions of Belgium and Switzerland, has always had to fight to preserve its liberty. Being surrounded entirely by water, it always had to depend on a first class navy superior to those of European powers, yet when occasion demands it musters millions of men to fight land wars in Europe. There is not a country in the world which has made such sacrifices to protect not only the liberties of its own people but other nations. As Anthony Eden so well stated in an address to the American people last year following the crisis over Czechoslovakia, Great Britain did not look for others to pull its chestnuts out of the fire.

IT IS amusing to hear of some of the "dopes" who talk of volunteering their services for war, but who specify they want a commission. Most of this type of blighter would also want a bomb-proof job. Not the mud and muck and real soldiering for them—no sir; its fever beds they would like to rest in. However, the army isn't taking that kind of a would-be soldier.

And here's another good one. It is from The People's Weekly: We find ourselves in agreement with the Quebec senator who wants to have the men from forty to sixty called up first. After all we who have lived to forty or older have tasted nearly everything worth while that our opportunities are likely to provide. But youth has its years opening up before it. And we know some older men who have expressed a desire to have young men conscripted immediately for the battle lines who would fill a place twice as big in the lines as the average young fellow, and might even be of some value in stopping a tank.

PROTEST has been made, and rightly so, over failure to establish a recruiting centre here. This town has had more men enrolled than from other places in the Pass, and facilities should be provided here. This has been pointed out to Major Ross, chief recruiting officer for Military District 10, and despatches published in the Calgary Herald and Lethbridge Herald voicing the protest, but to date no action has been taken. Colonel Barnes also took the matter up with the military headquarters.

THE week-end brought grave war news, and disconcerting though it is to learn that Poland has been over-run by Germany and Russia, and the plucky resistance of that country broken, it has only served to increase the resolution of the Allies to overcome Hitlerism. His bragging radio address from Danzig on Tuesday again demonstrated to the world the mentality of the man who in one minute breathes words of peace and in the next tells what he will do to England and France. How can there be peace in the world while this type of ruler continues his oppressive wars against smaller nations? However, the combined might of France and Great Britain and the Dominions and their economic resources will count as they did in 1914-18, and there can only be one end to the conflict if the world is to be saved from the over-lordship of a man intoxicated with his victories over Czechoslovakia and Poland.

AT LEAST one tradesman is finding it does not pay to grant credit, for he is out several hundred dollars which was owing by customers who have moved.

POOR BUSINESS METHODS

It's mighty poor business when a man feels compelled to buy goods or services from another as the only way to get even. It's much like taking in each other's washing to create business.

Red Cross Branch Organized Here

Every Individual Will Be Asked to Assist in Humanitarian Work of Canadian Red Cross—Nation Wide Appeal Planned

Keen interest was shown in the organization meeting on Friday evening for the Canadian Red Cross. Nearly 40 were present, and the following officers were appointed: Mayor George Pattinson, president; Mrs. A. W. H. McLeod, honorary president, in recognition of her work for several years as president; Mrs. W. L. Rippon, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur E. Graham, secretary; Wilfred Dutil, treasurer; William Martland, president of the Canadian Legion; Thos. McCloy, representing Coleman Miners Association; Mrs. H. Claxton, H. T. Halliwell, publicity. Committees will be added to in order to complete the organization.

Representatives of the Miners and the Legion questioned the methods to be followed as to collection and disbursement of funds. They felt that a proportion of monies collected should be set aside for local men and their dependents. Others in the meeting felt that the monies collected should be turned over to the national organization, for the past experience had shown that all local needs had been well taken care of by the provincial office of the Red Cross.

It was pointed out that if a separate organization was deemed advisable to care for local needs, this could be done, but in view of the international work of the Red Cross Society, the local branch should be organized in accordance with its rules.

Mrs. C. F. Dunlop, former secretary of the local branch, pointed out that when the flu epidemic was at its height in 1918, the provincial government in response to a request for local assistance immediately sent $600 aid in setting up an emergency hospital.

Following the general meeting, the executive met to discuss plans for the national-wide appeal to be made during the last weeks of September and the first of October.

The secretary was asked to notify each local organization in order that all may be advised of the work and plans to raise money, secure supplies and all other requirements connected with the war. It is pointed out that every individual will be called on to assist in some way, and it is hoped that the response will be 100 per cent. throughout the town.

He Got The Rum!

A touch of humor was injected into the organization meeting of the Red Cross Society on Friday. Ernie Beart suggested that arrangements should be made to send every Coleman man while on active service a box of personal comforts each week. George Derbyshire spoke up and said that in the last war a box had been sent addressed to him in France for months, but he only got one, and that was when the war was almost over. Asked if he had no better luck on his rum ration, he replied: "I ruddy well took care I got that, you bet."

Robbery at Empire Hotel

On Friday night or early Saturday morning the Empire Hotel was entered from the back door, and several cases of beer and packets of cigarettes stolen. The refrigerator in which the beer is stored was on the main floor. It was believed the thieves were disturbed, or they would have taken more. The town has been free from robberies of this type for some time.

Protest No Recruiting Centre Here

Headquarters Military District Advised Lack of Facilities Here to Enrol Volunteers—Coleman Largest Centre in Pass.

Despite the fact that Coleman has contributed a large proportion of recruits to the regiments being mobilized in Alberta, and that this is the largest centre of population in the Crow's Nest Pass, no centre has been established here to medically examine and enrol recruits. A strongly worded protest was sent to the military headquarters, and a reply was received from Major Ross, chief recruiting officer, but no assurance was given that a recruiting office would be established here. Continued protest will be made to provide local facilities, as it is only right that men should be examined and attested in the place where they volunteer, and that is Coleman.

Railroad Tie On Track at Michel

On Sunday night a railroad tie was discovered across the C. P. R. rails just west of the tipple of Michel Mine. Police investigators are working on the case. It was found by a brakeman of a freight train crew. Had it remained there, it would likely have caused derailment of the passenger train locomotive later in the night.

Frank Organizes Red Cross

Officers appointed at the organization meeting of a branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society at Frank are Mrs. O. Painter, president; Mrs. W. R. Drake, vice-president; Mrs. J. J. Murray, honorary secretary; Capt. R. E. Donkin, honorary treasurer.

On Tuesday night George Forgas, timberman at International mine, sustained an injury to his foot, and was admitted to hospital. On Wednesday morning A. Jumarchuk was injured when thrown from a mine car, the locomotive leaving the rails, bringing the cars to a sudden stop.

Bellevue Motors Opens Here

Bellevue Motors have opened here in the building vacated by Sentinel Motors, and Les Green, son of J. H. Green, will likely be in charge of the business. W. Announcement was made this week that the annual Crown's Nest Pass Interscholastic track and field meet will be held at the Blairmore Stadium on Friday, September 29, with the sports being held under the same classification as in previous years.

Mr. Thomas Clarke, of Macleod, spent the week-end here, visiting his son and Mrs. Clarke. Age appears to make little impression, for he is as active and virile as ever. For many years he served in the old Northwest Mounted Police, and following termination of service he established a printing business in Macleod, which he still carries on.

SUSPENSION OF MAILS NOTED
